PCS 220 is an introduction to the methods of peace studies, a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approach to the study of war and peace. Using work from various fields of study, the course examines the causes of structural and direct violence among societies as well as the ways in which humans have sought peace.

Satisfies:

- Goal 1
  - Outcome 1
- Goal 3 Arts and Humanities
- Humanities
- Historical Studies

To view sections visit classes.ku.edu