This course is an introduction to the humanities and to interdisciplinary studies in the humanities. Key issues relating to human experience and the human condition are examined from a variety of perspectives, including religion, philosophy, history, literature, art and language. Assigned readings, including Barbara Kingsolver’s Poisonwood Bible, emphasize interdisciplinary approaches to understanding and interpreting texts. Writing assignments are designed to improve student skills in written communication and give them rhetorical flexibility.

Who:
Sandra Zimdars-Swartz

When:
Monday and Wednesday 12:30-1:45PM

Where:
Bailey 202

Course #:
66607

Satisfies:
- Goal 2 outcome 1 (GE21)
- Goal 3 Arts and Humanities (GE3H)
- Humanities (H)
- Literature & the Arts PC (HL)